NORTHERN PART OF CHINA IS IN ABSOLUTE UPROAR

PEKIN, March 6.—Circuitous reports state that the entire northern part of China is in uproar. Bandits and the mutinous soldiers are still killing and looting. Hundreds are reported as slaughtered.

While the semblance of order prevails here and at Tien Tsin, all the other large cities to the north are in shambles. Fearful atrocities are occurring at Chin Chow and Ching Ho. Rioters swarmed today through the foreign concessions, shrieking,
beating gongs and firing guns.
Ching Ho is burned, according to dispatches received here. English

Lost Out by 500 Votes—Socialists May Have Elected City Corporation Attorney

count incomplete, indications today are that former State Senator Cotterill

the candidate of the wide-open-town element.

candidate, who was once recalled.
The Socialists made a strong ef-and it is predicted that he will have at least 25,000 votes.

WOULD ABOLISH COMMERCE COURT

House Grilled Taft's Pet Very Severely—Action on Sims'
Bill Tomorrow

WASHINGTON, March 6.—That the commerce court is likely to be short lived was shown yesterday by the severe grilling it received in Congress at the hands of Representative Adamson, chairman of the interstate commerce committee of the House, and others, in connection with the consideration of Representative Sims' bill to abolish the commerce court. The court was designated as a barrier to railroad regulation, making it possible for the railroads to laugh at the rulings of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Final action on the Sims bill will be taken tomorrow, and it is believed the bill will pass both House and Senate. If President Taft vetoes the bill, it is proposed that appropriation for next year's work of the court be withheld, thus killing the court.

Progressive Republicans and Democrats have joined in the effort to abolish the court.

JAPANESE HELD UP AT POINT OF GUN ON FRENCH STREET IS ROBBED OF $8.50 AND WATCH

revolver made him hold up his hands
while search was made for coin.

who is in the Santa Ana Hospital. He was returning toward the center of the city when he was held up. He east side of French street at the

IT AUTHORIZED NO BRIDGE FOR BRINGING OF THAT STREET ACTION THIS YEAR

Attorneys for School Board
Will Sue to Make Bonds
Good if Possible

COST ESTIMATED
FROM $150 TO $175

The Application for a Writ is to be Made in the Appellate Court

At a meeting last night, the board of education authorized the bringing of a mandamus action for the purpose of getting an appellate court decision on the $200,000 polytechnic high school bonds and the $25,000
grammar school bonds.

The situation was explained to the school board by Attorney R. Y. Williams, who has maintained that the outcome of a suit is very doubtful so far as getting a favorable decision is concerned, and by City Attorney Heathman, who is more sanguine as to the result. The attorneys stated that it would not be necessary to print the entire issue of bonds in order to get the matter before the court. The action could be brought against T. B. Talbert as chairman of the Board of Supervisors as to his signature on the first bond. It was estimated by the attorneys that the cost of the suit would be about $150 or $175.

The school board concluded that it was well to take every step that offers a possibility of making the bonds good, and the following resolution was passed:

"Resolved, That on behalf of the Santa Ana High School district and Santa Ana school district, an action
be brought to determine the validity of the bond issues voted on Dec. 14, 1911, and that the firm of Williams & Rutan be employed to assist the city attorney in said action."

If the appellate court will allow it,
the application for writ of mandamus
will be filed in the appellate court.
Otherwise the action will be begun
in the superior court.

Contract Is Let
The board received bids for putting in a retaining wall on one side of Sycamore street at Washington school. The contract was let to J. I.
Haisell for $30.

Judge Putnam's decision that decreed that trust officials could be held only on the first count of indictment charging combination in restraint of trade and dismissing the count charging conspiracy to monopolize.

Winslow, George Brown, William Barbour, Elmer Hull and Edwin Hurd.

ords for battleships in the United States navy. The designed speed of the vessel was 20.75 knots.

Supervisors Say Too Much on Hand to Act Favorably
on Petition

GARDEN GROVE WANTS
IT FURTHER NORTH

On Duggan's Request, no Action Taken With Return of $6000 Check

The Board of Supervisors this morning took action that means no bridge will be built across the Santa Ana river at Seventeenth street this year. The petition for the bridge was ordered filed for further consideration. Two of the supervisors, Struck and Leck, expressed opposition to doing that particular work at this time, and another, Talbert, said he did not feel that the board is in a position to do it at this time.

Engineer Kellogg presented the petition of sixty residents of Berrydale asking for the bridge. He said the city would straighten Seventeenth street, that a 320-foot bridge would be needed, and that there would be enough iron and flooring left over from the Fifth street bridge to supply this bridge and part of another bridge on the Talbert road. He said the county would have to supply piers and 6000 feet of lumber and do the work, at a cost of about $1800.

The resolution of the Merchants & Manufacturers' Association asking for the bridge was read, and W. A.
Zimmerman as committee man from the Chamber of Commerce urged the action. N. A. Ulm and R. J. Paine spoke in favor of the bridge.

J. A. Knapp and Mr. Cook, for a delegation from Garden Grove, urged that the bridge be placed a mile north of Seventeenth on the road direct from Garden Grove, saying it would be of the greatest good for the greatest number. Knapp said that placing the bridge at Seventeenth would put the bridge but a mile from Fifth street bridge, which he thought too close.

Zimmerman said that the Dawn Land Co. of West Orange expects to open up a road that will give a direct road to the Chapman street bridge. Kellogg pointed out that moving the bridge a mile north of Seventeenth would put it a mile from the Chapman street bridge. He said Seventeenth street runs from the mountains to the sea.

Supervisor Struck said that it is out of the question to spend the money for the proposed bridge this year,
as the Fifth street bridge if built will cost from $13,000 to $15,000. He advised patience and a wait of a year or two until the county has more money for the work.

Kellogg said the bridge he proposed would last twenty-five years.

Supervisor Smith said he thinks a bridge at Seventeenth street is imperative. His motion to grant the petition was not seconded.

Supervisor Leck said he thought the people to the south should be considered, where teaming is heavy,
and he wanted to see the left-over materials of the Fifth street bridge
go to the south.

Supervisor Talbert said he would like to make every improvement demanded, but to do so would mean a greatly increased tax rate.

"Of course," said he, "we can do everything in one year, but the taxpayers would have to pay the bills.
If you will pay high taxes and say you like it, all right. I don't feel that the board is in a position to do all of this work this year."

Supervisor Leck said the county would be expected to put in bridges
for the state highway. On his motion, the petition was filed for further consideration.

Passage of Minimum Wage Law—
Big Strike Menaces Germany

LONDON, March 6.—At a conference between Premier Asquith and the striking miners' executive council, Asquith

would pass a minimum wage bill, and that the strikers will gain all their demands, if they would return to work immediately.

Relief May be in Sight

LONDON, March 6.—Possible relief for the millions now suffering as a result of the miners' strike appeared possible when it was announced that the strike leaders were seriously considering the acceptance of the government's assurance that it will enact a minimum wage bill. It is believed the bill will be introduced in the House of Commons tonight.

Suffering was increased greatly today. Food supplies are dwindling, and the poor are selling all their possessions to buy food. Lloyds are issuing thousands of anti-riot insurance policies.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC AT STAND STILL—INDUSTRIES GIVEN UP

proclamation prohibiting the sale of a meeting of the strike leaders tonight.

The coal miners have made formal demand for union recognition, shorter hours and increased pay.

MEXICAN AFFAIRS AT CRISIS— MADERO FACES HIS DOWNFALL

MEXICO CITY, March 6.—Hemmed in by advancing insurgents on all sides, and his authority defied throughout the country, President Madero is facing conditions as serious as those resulting in the deposition of General Diaz.

The Zapatistas are gaining strength in the south, and are advancing on the capital. At Chihuahua General Orozco and other rebel commanders have mobilized a force that is apparently certain to spell Madero's doom. Foreigners are fleeing in trains, carriages and automobiles, knowing President Madero's inability to protect them. That the crisis is soon to come is the general belief.

OROZCO TODAY PROCLAIMED CHIHUAHUA AS CAPITAL

of a thousand troops, is advancing on Chihuahua to engage the combined troops of Generals Orozco, Campa and Salazar. This, it is believed, is being done on the direct orders of President Madero. The rebel force is greatly superior to the advancing force.

STRIKE PICKET ATTACKED TODAY

Strikers Would Use Red Pepper to Blind Strikebreakers
—Probe Continues

LAWRENCE, Mass., March 6.—
The police and militia charged the strike pickets at the Arlington mill today. Ten women and five men were arrested on charges of intimidating and assault. The police allege the strikers were carrying bags of red pepper, and feared attempts would be made to blind the strikebreakers.

Many strikers returned to work this morning. The mill owners assert that the strike has been broken
but the strikers say twelve thousand workers are still out.

MRS. TAFT AGAIN PRESENT AT STRIKE INVESTIGATION

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Mrs.
Taft was again a spectator when the congressional rules committee resumed the Lawrence strike hearing.
Her interest centered in the thirteen emancipated children brought to Washington to testify.

The first witness was Commissioner Lynch, who admitted that women and children were jailed, adding that he "didn't know why." He tried to minimize the matter by saying that the women and children were "merely detained, not arrested."
He was unable to give any reason for their "detainment."

William D. Haywood, conducting the strike for the textile workers, has arrived here. He will probably testify regarding the alleged police brutalities.

LOS ANGELES GAINS

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—Increased population has forced the postal department to add to the force of letter carriers in Los Angeles twenty-nine additional men. The large addition to the force was made on the recommendation of Postmaster W.
H. Harrison and as the result of the great gains in receipts made by the Los Angeles postoffice.

Roosevelt Says Same Sense of Duty That Led Him to Aid in N. Y. Fight, is Busy Now

GIFFORD PINCHOT SAYS TAFT IS AN "INGRATE"

Was Elected on Roosevelt Policies—Is Too Costly
for Country

MINEOLA, Long Island, March 6.
—Declaring that he is reluctantly drawn into the presidential race
through a sense of duty, Colonel Roosevelt today replied to Secretary of War Stimson's Chicago statement that "Those who forced Roosevelt into the arena are jeopardizing instead of advancing the nation's progress," Roosevelt said:

"Stimson's statement is true in the same sense that it would be true to make the same statement regarding my advocacy of Stimson's candidacy for governor of New York. I was reluctantly drawn to his support there in the same measure that I considered it my duty to run for the presidential nomination. If I would have considered personal interests and preferences, I would have kept out of that campaign."

PINCHOT BRANDS TAFT AS AN INGRATE TODAY

DEVILS LAKE, N. D., March 6.—
Speaking in behalf of Colonel Roosevelt's candidacy, Gifford Pinchot today scored President Taft as an "ingrate." He said:

"My attacks on President Taft are not the result of my enforced resignation from the forestry department.
But by all the rules of decency Taft should be loyal to Roosevelt. The Roosevelt policies elected Taft, but we want no more Taft rule. It costs too much."

report, but is unable to vouch
for its veracity.

LONDON, March 6.—Captain Robert

flag at 82 degrees, 17 minutes south.
The present expedition has cost $200,000, subscribed by the people and the government. It left London on the ship "Terra Nova" on June 1, 1910, stopping at New Zealand en route. Captain Ronald Amundson, the Norwegian with whom Scott is racing, left Buenos Ayres late in 1910 and is believed now to be near the South Pole.

M' DANNALD TELLS OF OPENING OF LAND SHOW AT KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 27. 1912. The great event was pulled off last night amid a blare and a blaze. Some 10,000 people helped to swell the noise and make it so confounded crowded one could hardly elbow his way along the aisles. As usual Southern California's booth was the center-piece, and attracted more people and caused more enthusiasm than all the other exhibits in the big building.

Convention Hall, where the show is being pulled off, is a fine structure, covering nearly half a block, is built of reinforced concrete, and has a seating capacity of 15,000. Besides the exhibits, and there are "worlds" of them, they have a number of side attractions. Jasper and I are booked for two lectures a day, steady, and when someone else gets cold feet, we are expected to "fill in." It looks now as though it was going to be a big number, at least for us.

It has been most awfully cold ever since we arrived. There is now about seven inches of snow on the ground, with a brisk, biting breeze blowing from the northwest. It filters through my anatomy like dry sand through a sieve, and sends me hunting the radiator.

Jasper is spending a great deal of money, employing special detectives to go over the city every morning, hunting for people who have frozen to death during the night. I lectured tonight to a crowded house, about 400, and the hand-clap at the conclusion suggested appreciation. We have a much better lot of slides than any I have seen from other sections, and our talks hold the crowds. Every time a California lecture is announced, the people flock in by the hundreds, filling the lecture rooms almost to suffocation. I came out of the room tonight covered with perspiration, and "glory." At least 95 per cent of the people we talk with—and we talk all the time, for our booth is continually crowded—are headed for Southern California, either now or in the near future.

To illustrate the water supply of this town, if you should wade any distance in it, you would be compelled to stop and scrape the mud off your boots. To my mind it's something horrible.

Jasper has been talking "tobacco" growing lately, and as we passed a seed store today he went in and asked for tobacco seed. When the clerk asked him what variety he wanted Jasper said he guessed that "Bull Durham, Piper-Heidsieck or Battle Ax" were the leading varieties.

Some of the names here amuse me greatly. I have an odd collection copied from actual signs as they hang over the street, and if you don't think them queer please report for sentence. Wagonbottom, Red-heffer, Walkenhors, Beamblossom, Muhlbater and Skoopendingle. I am now looking for "Whiskey straight" and "Dontgivea—"

Some of the buildings here have a very interesting history. I counted not less than twelve stories on one of them. Yesterday Jasper and I walked around a block not less than six times before we could determine to our satisfaction that it had only four sides. If the colored people and the mules could be eliminated, Kansas City's citizenship would average fairly well with other towns in which I have made close observation. One convenient arrangement I noticed here, and it is unique to be worthy of record. Across the street from my room, but on the corner, is a doctor's office. On the corner south is a drug store, across the way east is an undertaker's, and on the fourth corner is a church. Thus the expense of dying has been reduced to the minimum, and, by the way the graveyard is growing it will soon be a "next door neighbor."

I guess it's not best to mention the 3-cent chop house, for fear the supervisors might get inquisitive when I put in my expense account. The morning papers here don't go to press until after breakfast. Therefore, we read the late evening edition while we sip our hot cakes, and eat the mug of black coffee. I read an article in this morning's paper which ran thuswise: "He owned his own farm, besides a wife and two full-blood hounds." I regarded it as an awkward coincidence for the "wife."

I almost forgot to tell you that our stuff came through in fine shape and that our exhibit was the only one in the building which required no more finishing touches when the opening gong sounded the glad news. The Kansas City papers are loud in their praise of our display. One of them last night said it required seven baggage cars to transport the exhibit here, and that there were 40 of the leading citizens of Southern California here, ready and willing to expatiate on her greatness. Wilson, Jasper and "Me" feel somewhat puffed; Thirteen and a third makes a pretty fair average. In this case, as in all others, Jasper collects all the honors. He claims to represent thirty-eight. And I guess Wilson and I are fortunate in getting off even that easy.

F. L. Sexton, 1129 West Second St., Santa Ana, Calif., says: "Off and on I was troubled by a dull pain in the small of my back and I believed that the annoyance was caused by weak kidneys. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended and procured a supply at Dean's Drug Store. Relief soon followed their use and as I continued taking them, great benefit was derived. Another member of my family has also found splendid results through the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They proved as effective in relieving backache in that case as in mine."

MILWAUKEE THROUGH TRAINS FOR THE COAST

Los Angeles Examiner: As a result of negotiations lasting more than ten years, the Milwaukee railroad has at last secured a contract with the Harriman lines by which Milwaukee trains will run solid through from Chicago to San Francisco, Los Angeles and Portland. The contract becomes effective May 1 and as soon as the details are worked out they will be made public. Preliminary announcements were made yesterday in Omaha.

For years the Milwaukee has run through cars over the Union Pacific to San Francisco but never has been able to get into Los Angeles or Portland over the Short Line. Recently the Northwestern began running trains to the north coast over the Northern Pacific and the Milwaukee contract is supposed to be in retaliation of that move.

According to the first drafts beginning May 1, the Milwaukee will run a de luxe train east and west be-

Double Your Efforts During the Next Three Days of the Big Special Vote Offer in This Exceedingly Close Contest

SUBSIDIARY PRIZES

Always bear in mind that in this contest there are to be awarded a large number of subsidiary prizes, so that any contestant who really works will be sure of winning at least fair compensation for services rendered.

So far as announced the subsidiary prizes are as follows:
Set of Dining Room Furniture, offered by the Horton-Spurgeon Furniture Co. Value $85.00.
Diamond Ring, offered by A. J. Padgham & Son. Value $80.00.
Two scholarships in the Orange County Business College (one to be awarded to each of two contestants), value $65 each; total value $130.00.
White Sewing Machine, "Sit-Strate" model, offered by J. R. Dean, local agent for White Sewing Machine Co. Value $80.00.
Three Scholarships in the Orange County Conservatory of Music (one to be awarded to each of three contestants); value $20 each; total value $60.00.

You have all been working pretty hard during the past six weeks—yes, nearly seven weeks. When we say "all," that means all in the roll of honor. And you have all been putting about an equal amount of time and energy into the work of subscription getting, and the result is that you all ought to be pretty even with one another.

So don't be too confident, and don't rely for a single minute on the reserve vote that you have now to pull you through to victory on March 16th. You may have lots of votes in reserve, but how about your competitors? Perhaps you haven't got the best of any of them—because they have been putting in their share of hustling.

That's the reason you have got to keep persistently at it. A day lost now means that you have dropped down the list just a point or two, because while you are idling you can just bet that your competitors are gathering in the votes.

Now if you have not as many votes as the leader that is all the more reason why you should proceed to get busy.

Get busy, with the accent on the word busy.

You can get a pretty good idea every day by the vote list what your competitors are doing; you can see now what you have been doing.

If you are satisfied, then well and good; only don't be satisfied, because there are others that will try to beat you before 9 o'clock Saturday night, March 16th.

If you are ever so far behind the leaders in this good-natured tug-of-war you have ample time to make a showing. The contest ends in just nine days. Nine days of work in this glorious Orange county climate. And don't get a mistaken idea of prowess of the women at the top.

It doesn't necessarily follow that because they have cast several thousand votes more than you have that you can't catch up before the eleventh hour. Without detracting at all from the splendid work of the leaders, we can say that there is a limit to everything. Some of these candidates may have done their best and there is a possible chance that they have gone their limit.

We can't speak for what they'll do or what any candidate will do.

It is just as likely as not that the winner on March 16th is at the bottom of the list now as at the top.

We mean by this that any candidate in the roll of honor now has equally as good chance as the other to win.

CHALK TALKS ON BUSINESS TRAINING

By J. W. McCormac.

Young men and women are idle or are working for a low wage not because they lack native ability, but because they lack training.

Can a sickle half sharp cut grain, or a vessel without a rudder sail in to port? Can a young man without training be entrusted with the affairs of a successful business?

You cannot use old tools and old rules. You cannot make headway with obsolete fuel. This is an age of steam and electricity.

We are continually facing strange portals. You can't unlock them with the keys of your fathers.

If you can't keep ahead of the line you'll have to go to the bottom.

The new rule for action is: "If you can't push, pull; if you can't pull, please get out of the way."

Orange County Business College supplies the exact training you will need when you come into active competition with the business men of the age. Our courses are both practical and thorough. They meet the exact demands of the business.

Other commercial schools, both private and public, may claim; but we point to our graduates as our proof and evidence. A graduate of Orange County Business College is known everywhere. Why? Because of his or her knowledge of what the business man expects.

Call here to investigate. You can enter any time, as we have no vacation. Ask for our free catalogue.

CONGRESSMAN SCORES GOVERNOR OF FLORIDA

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Denouncing Governor Gilchrist of Florida, Representative Clark of Florida yesterday declared in the House that Florida "land sharks" are robbing thousands of investors.

"I am opposed to the exploitation of these Everglades lands by conscienceless land sharks to the disgrace of my state," said Clark in refuting a published attack by Governor Gilchrist, charging that Clark was adding western railroads in bringing discredit on the Everglades.

"This little pinhead governor thought it would hurt me politically," continued Clark amid loud cheers from the House, "to charge that I was interested with railroads in injuring my state. I brand that as a base, vile, uncalled for and deliberate falsehood."

LOS ANGELES, March 6.—A big rally of Progressives will take place here on Saturday, when the local organization will be formed for the purpose of carrying on the presidential primary campaign on behalf of Theodore Roosevelt, as the Progressive Republican candidate for the nomination for the presidency.

Music and the Drama

THE 'SQUAW MAN' PLAYED WITH SKILL AT GRAND

The "Squaw Man," by Edwin Milton Royce, once heralded as the long looked for typical American play, was produced at the Grand last night with unmistakable success before an audience that was considerably smaller than it would have been had it not been a stormy evening.

The play deals with self-sacrifice, with a far cry between the social setting of the two who exemplify the noble virtue, Capt. James Wynnegate, the action of an aristocratic English family, and Nat-U-Rich, the Ute Indian girl. Wynnegate gave up home, family and prospects for the happiness of the woman he loved, the wife of an ignorant cousin, the Earl of Kerhill of Maudsley Towers, England. Nat-U-Rich, daughter of Tabbywanna, the Peace Chief of the Utes, gave her life for her squaw man, "Jim Carston," the erstwhile Capt. Wynnegate, who had found a home in the great American West after his flight from England under the shadow of a forged commission by his cousin. Rescued two or three times from death by the devotion of the Indian girl, Wynnegate finally married her, a little son being the product of the strange union. In the course of a few years when the little fellow had won every heart on the Carston cattle ranch, "Carston" or Wynnegate succeeded to the title of Earl of Kerhill by the death of his estranged cousin, the latter having confessed his guilt of the crime for which Wynnegate had become an exile. Lady Dianna, the cousin's wife and the woman Wynnegate loved and for whom he had made sacrifice, goes west with the collector to seek Wynnegate and beg his return to England. Wynnegate, torn between love, his longing for home, and his duty to his Indian wife and little son, finally decides to send his boy to England to become fitted for the position which would some day be his. But he steadfastly refuses to desert Nat-U-Rich, the Indian girl to whom he owed his life. Nat-U-Rich, who had taken refuge on the lonely desert when she found her little son was to be taken across the "wide water," returns just as the leave taking of the boy and the parting of Wynnegate and Dianna takes place. Unseen she witnesses the anguish of her squaw man, and climaxes her devotion to him by the supreme sacrifice of her life, cutting the gordian knot that kept him from his own.

The scenes in which the fortunes of the play are portrayed range from the beautiful Maudsley Tower in England surrounded by a fair and peaceful landscape, to the Lone Horn Saloon at Maverick, Wyoming, where "Cash" Hawkins, bad man, meets his death at the hands of Nat-U-Rich as he is about to murder Wynnegate; and Carston's cattle ranch at Green River, Wyoming, set in the midst of alkali plains and blistering heat. The scenic effects were faithful to life, and the scenes of cowboy gatherings in the Lone Horn Saloon and their picturesque dialect were vividly portrayed.

George V. Dill, as Captain Wynnegate and "Jim Carston" gave a noteworthy interpretation of a chivalrous, tender-hearted, lovable man, who kept clean and decent in his wild west surroundings. Edna Marshall, as Lady Dianna, was to the life the high bred Englishwoman who set her honor above conventionalities. Nat-U-Rich, the Indian girl, was played with quiet strength by Glen Porter, and the final pathetic scene in which her limp, dead body was brought in by her father, the somber Peace Chief Tabbywanna, brought tears to many eyes.

Mr. Bennett delineated Tabbywanna, the Ute chief, with fidelity and skill. Allen Lonstreet as Big Bill, foreman of the Carston ranch, was almost the stellar figure of the play. He was a true cowboy. Master Leo, as little Hal, was a lovable lad, acting with childish simplicity. The other parts, a dozen or so, were intelligently portrayed and completed an admirable portrayal of a throng and touching story.

"A Night Out" is the title of May Robson's new comedy, of which she is co-author with C. T. Dazey. The type of character selected is that of a very lovable but eccentric woman, an old fashioned grandma, whose generous nature and quaint characteristics involve her in a very funny complication, and from this arrive numerous situations of the laugh-producing character. Miss Robson will assume the role of "Grammum," supported by an excellent company. There are many well-known players in the cast.

A Near Tragedy
None but those who have seen this wonderful comedy photo play at the Bell Theater can appreciate the great amount of laugh—the many laughs that can be combined in a film play. Lilly's Lovers keeps one in doubt until the very last as to which one is her choice. To tell it all in this, would spoil a treat that is in store for all visitors at the Bell tonight. Beginning tomorrow (Thursday) Jack Roshier's show doks in "The Rube and His Dogs" will be one of the big numbers for the new show.

FLORIDA'S CELERY HURT BY MOISTURE

A late February letter from Sanford, Fla., to the Produce News of Chicago tells of a short celery crop there as follows:

Celery is progressing slowly. Conservative estimates of movement for the next three weeks place the total movement at 6@8 cars weekly. It is cutting very short, will hardly exceed one car per acre, which means a movement of approximately 600 cars for the season from this entire territory. Under favorable conditions the movement would have been 1100@1200 cars. Excessive rains, however, ruined the prospects for a large crop. The outer stalks of celery are dying off, due to too much moisture, and this condition also had the effect of drowning out and rotting the roots of the plants preventing a proper growth. The few cars now being loaded are running to small sized stock, containing mainly 6s and 8s, instead of 3s, 4s and 5s, as in previous years. Late crops of celery may react under favorable conditions now prevailing, and may produce more prolifically and run to more desirable sizes, as weather during the past few days has been ideal for the growing of these crops.

TRUE REPUBLICANS

William Barnes, Jr., Chairman of the New York Republican State Central Committee, declares that Roosevelt's talk in Columbus was "a violation of Republicanism," and that "the voters will hold the party firm against the crazy ideas of the hour."

Which causes the Sacramento Bee, an independent newspaper, to take the floor and ask and answer some pertinent questions, as follows:

"What are those crazy ideas?" That The People should initiate, and concur in or reject legislation, as they may desire.

That the courts should no longer be permitted, by splitting hairs to kill weighty measures of reform which The People have willed to be necessary for the advancement and progress of humanity.

"That the government should govern the railroads; that the railroads should not govern the government."

"These are primal 'crazy ideas' of the hour."

"These are the ideas which Chairman Barnes calls 'a violation of Republicanism.'"

"Those are blind who cannot see sanity in views that would make the government more responsive to the popular will."

"Reactionaries are those who find these principles in any way opposed to true Republicanism."

"The controlling element in any government which denies to The People that which Roosevelt asks they be granted is not Republicanism; it is arrogant autocracy."

REAL PARTY CLEAVAGE

The real distinction at the present time in the Republican party is not so much between "progressives" and "conservatives" as between a coalition of selfish interests on one hand and the consistent Republican sentiment of the country on the other hand. The future of the Republican party must depend upon what will happen in the national convention next June. It is not a party seriously divided within itself. Nor is it a party that cannot easily be harmonized. The great mass of the party is for the country and the welfare of all the people. But the machinery of the party has to a great extent come under the control of self-seekers and special interests.

The party does not lack intelligence, and its best thinking is done, not by those holding the high political offices, but by the rank and file who have time to think and are free from the bias of personal ambition and the restraints imposed by political bargain and trade. There has never been a period in the party's history when it was so necessary for its salvation that its private members should assert themselves, control their own convention, repudiate machine bargains, make a simple, honest platform, and nominate candidates in response to such demand as the party may have indicated by the middle of June.

It is complained that the movement for control of the Chicago convention rests unduly upon the selection by federal office-holders of the delegates from southern states that will cast no Republican electoral votes in November. If the administration were

THE BATTLE FOR SECTION TWENTY

The law included, as its twentieth section, a provision that the Interstate Commerce Commission should provide a uniform system of accounting for all railroads, require reports, have access to their accounts, and inspect these, to insure that the law was being obeyed.

This was and is widely regarded as the most important feature of the act. It is a guarantee against discrimination, for if government inspectors go through the accounts, it must be practically impossible to give rebates without their knowledge.

There was determined hostility to this provision, and its opponents intrigued to destroy it. A plot was carefully laid, to be sprung when the Sundry Civil Bill of 1908 was passed. By that time the Interstate Commerce Commission had perceived the uniform system of accounting and needed inspectors and accounting experts to investigate the books of railroads, precisely as bank-examiners investigate banks. Accordingly the commission asked Congress for half a million dollars for such experts.

The Committee on Appropriations, in framing the bill, cut this amount to fifty thousand dollars—a figure so not reckoning upon its control of delegates from Alaska, Porto Rico, the Philippines, Hawaii, and those southern states that are always solidly Democratic,—so the progressives declare,—it would have no assurance upon which to base its arrangements with local machines and organizations. Like the New York county committee and the Penrose following in Pennsylvania. The anti-Taft Republicans have been sharply criticizing the methods used to get "snap judgment" and secure delegates many months in advance of the convention. The Republican party is generous, and it can forgive many mistakes. But, these critics declare, the party does not like to be sandbagged, and it resents snap conventions and cut-and-dried schemes that disregard the will of the voters. The 18 or 20 delegates elected in early February were all of this sort. —From "The Progress of the World," in the American Review of Reviews for March.

ROOSEVELT SENTIMENT

That the Roosevelt sentiment is predominant among Progressives in California was made strikingly manifest at the state meeting held in San Francisco on February 28th. Chester H. Rowell reported at that time that, in response to requests for expressions of preference sent out by postcard to those who had previously signed the roll of the La Follette league, 611 replies declared in favor of Colonel Roosevelt and 133 in favor of Senator La Follette.

It is clear that the Progressives of California hold Senator La Follette in the highest regard but that, in view of the situation surrounding the campaign, they look to Colonel Roosevelt as the one man who can carry strength enough throughout the country to secure the Republican nomination. Placing the cause of Progress, which can ill afford a defeat at this time, above individuals, they have declared wisely and patriotically for the former President.

The sneer of the Reactionaries that "La Follette has been dumped" is neither more or less than was to have been expected. Had not Mr. La Follette's condition rendered him unavailable for the strenuous fight which must be made, the Reactionary papers and politicians, instead of bestowing insincere pity upon the Wisconsin senator, would now be denouncing him as a dangerous and incendiary demagogue.

fighting out into the open. Then he sent for every friendly member of the house, rallied all the doubtful ones who could be reached, sounded the alarm to the country, and forced the issue.

The Cannon Machine at Bay
It was a tense occasion, that gray morning in late April, 1908, when the crucial item in the Sundry Civil Bill was reached. Both sides had spent several days in summoning their forces and planning for the struggle. To both, it meant far more than appeared on the surface. Down to that day, the Cannon organization had been able to suppress all the big "policy measures" that Roosevelt was urging. Committees packed against them would not bring them out. The session would be a failure unless Roosevelt should seize an opportunity to inflict a square and fair defeat upon his opponents. If he should win in this trial, he would be master of the situation.

The long day of debate opened with a large attendance in the House. Everybody knew that the fate of the session really hung in the balance. Masks were off, gloves cast aside. It was to be a finish fight. Never before had the real bitterness of the old House leadership been so openly displayed.

Chairman Tawney, of the Appropriations Committee, big, forceful, direct, fearless, led the machine's phalanx. As soon as the amendment had been offered to raise the appropriation from fifty thousand dollars to three hundred and fifty thousand, he was on his feet, and the battle was open.

"If section twenty is to depend upon an army of examiners for its enforcement," Mr. Tawney protested, "that section is an absolute failure. Who has ever advocated that, because we had enacted a law of that kind, therefore Congress should provide an army of examiners for the purpose of supervising the conduct of every man to determine whether or not he is obeying the law? Why, gentlemen, it will require an army of men, and ultimately result in a Federal audit of all the accounts of the transportation companies. I submit that we should not become hysterical over this proposition. The committee oppose the populist demand for unnecessary appropriations for that service."

Mr. Sherley, of Kentucky, declared that section twenty meant "to take a burden upon the government that not only is useless, but will be expensive beyond the dream of men I protest against the theory that we must have an army of inspectors and spies on the men of America during each hour of the working day to see that they do not disobey the law."

Mr. Keifer vociferously echoed this appeal to prejudice, declaring that "the time is coming when somebody should cry 'Hail' against this vicious method of attacking business under the cover of assailing public corporations, and treating them all as if they were criminal organizations."

And Mr. Fitzgerald, of New York, he who one year later led a little band of reactionary Democrats in saving the Cannon rules, declared:

"I have not reached that point yet where I believe every man engaged in business is endeavoring to act illegally."

Mr. Richardson, of Alabama, declared that "the amount of fifty thousand dollars follows upon prudent, careful lines, but the increase proposed is a leap in the dark. The time has not come when I will go so far as to do wrong and injustice to the railroads and at the same time injure the public by stimulating and encouraging an inspection that will promote no one's interests."

There was vastly more of the same sort during the debate, which was frankly recognized as the crucial battle between Roosevelt and his enemies for that session. At the close of the discussion, the three-hundred-and-fifty-thousand-dollar item was voted in to the bill by the close vote of eighty-seven to seventy-two.

I have gone into detail in this instance because it illustrates the blindness which affected chronic opponents of Roosevelt's policies. Section twenty has since that time proved itself everything that Roosevelt's supporters believed it. You could not today muster a corporal's guard in either branch of Congress to repudiate that provision. It has done more than any other thing to give force and vitality to the prohibitions against discriminations and rebating. Enlightened railroad men and financiers are in complete agreement as to the beneficial results that have flowed from the stoppage of these practices. They have been "catching up with Roosevelt."

WHY THE ROSEBERRY LAW

Economic Justification of Compensation

Before entering upon consideration of the more important sections of the "Compensation" provisions of the Roseberry Liability Law, it may be well to devote one installment in this series to a review of the economic justification of the law, for if there be no such justification, there will, ere long, be no such law. While this justification is elemental and simple, it will require a rather close application of the mind while reading what follows in order fully to sense its import.

All have heard of the Sherman anti-trust law of the United States, and nearly all have heard of the Cartwright anti-trust law of California. All such laws, and there are many of them, are for the prevention of monopoly, and monopoly, in the language of William J. Bryan, "is intolerable."

Why is it intolerable? Because it interferes with the rights of the consumer of products to have his commodities furnished him at what they are reasonably worth after he shall have fairly compensated every one who has helped in the whole chain of production and distribution, from the planting of the seed or mining of the ore until the finished product is handed over the counter to him or delivered at his door. Every person who has rendered any necessary service in that entire chain of causation has a right to be fairly compensated for the service rendered, but the consumer is wronged if any one of those links in the chain of production holds him up for an extortionate charge or combines with any other link in the chain to hold him up. It is to prevent that holding up that all anti-monopoly laws are enacted. And what a time we do have trying to enforce such laws for the protection of the ultimate consumer.

Now and just here is the crux of the argument; if the ultimate consumer has a right to have his commodities furnished him at what they are reasonably worth after he shall have paid, fairly, every person who has rendered any necessary service in the production or distribution of him of such commodity, it follows as night follows the day that the ultimate consumer has no right to leave out of that chain uncompensated a single link in it, a single person, be he employer or employee, capitalist or worker, from the beginning to the end. He must pay them all fairly, although the law will do for him all that it can to prevent his having to pay any of them unfairly. Is not that perfectly clear?

But there is one link in that chain who has been left out and unpaid, as a general thing, ever since feudalism gave place to free industry. That is the person who was hurt while at work producing that commodity, and, also, those dependent upon him for support. Of every 1000 persons who work in any industrial occupation, the best that the employer or the employees can do to prevent it, about so many will sustain severe personal injuries while at work. In the United States the killed alone average about 100 between sunrise and sunset every working day. The loss of industrial time from this cause is as much a part of the cost of production as raw material, labor, interest, wear and tear of machinery, transportation or distribution, and, in fairness, is as much entitled to be compensated.

Europe long ago perceived the truth of this contention and has squared its industrial system with that truth. It is righting, or has already righted, that wrong done to the hurt, who in the main, until Bismarck acted in the matter, had been sitting like Lazarus at the gate of Dives nursing his wounds and sharing his misery with his family.

The compensation provisions of the Roseberry law have undertaken to right this wrong heretofore done to those hurt in the industrial life of California. Our doing justice may be tardy, but it will be none the less welcome for that, the more especially as, if we had known what was right, we would have done what, was right long ago. The ultimate consumer must somehow be made fairly to compensate that missing link in the chain of production and distribution.

Everyone knows that breathing HYOMEI a few times a day through the little hard rubber pocket inhaler will in a short time drive out catarrh. Many people regularly use the vapor treatment at night in conjunction with the inhaler, claiming that it hastens results.

This is the vapor treatment: Into a bowl three quarters full of boiling water pour a scant teaspoonful of HYOMEI, cover the head and bowl with a towel and breathe for five minutes the soothing, healing, antiseptic HYOMEI vapor. Try it when using HYOMEI for any nose or throat ailment.

HYOMEI is guaranteed by The Rowley Drug Company to put an end to catarrh, or money back. A bottle of HYOMEI costs 50 cents; a complete outfit, which includes inhaler, $1.00.

DINNER PARTY

Friends Entertained at Carden Home Last Evening With Dinner and Whist

Very charming was the dinner and whist party given last evening by Mrs. L. J. Carden at the always hospitable Carden home on French street.

All the rooms were decorated with fragrant violets and feathery ferns, and lovely long stemmed vases with delicate fern fronds adorned the well appointed table. A six-course dinner was served at six-thirty o'clock and over the table were small crystal vases filled with the modest violets. Violet shaded candelabra, hand painted violet place cards and after dinner mints with candied violets completed the dainty color scheme of lavender and green.

Whist was played through the evening, and four tables of players enjoyed the intricacies of the captivating diversion. High scores were achieved by Mrs. J. I. Clark, whose prize was a handsome hand painted card and sugar set, and L. A. Colver, who was rewarded with the widely read book, "The Winning of Barbara Worth." A hand painted plate went to Mrs. J. W. Bishop as consolation prize for ladies, and J. P. Baumgartner was consoled with a watch fob.

Additional to the pleasures of whist and conversation were the charms of music, a number of melodious numbers being played on the graphophone during the evening for the entertainment of the guests who were Mesdames J. W. Bishop, L. A. Colver, J. I. Clark, W. E. Winslow, E. B. Burns, C. S. Kendall and J. P. Baumgartner.

The So So Club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. B. Gardner on East Third street. The afternoon was spent in conversation, music and fancy work.

THE BOY AT HOME

Suffering independent: Much of the dreadfulness of boys from six to sixteen is due to the fact that in so very few homes a boy can be natural without disturbing everything and every one. But who ever thinks of providing a place for the boys in which to keep their treasures undisturbed, where they can make all the noise they like? If a man needs a den to relax in, how much more does a growing boy? Does it not sometimes seem dreadful to think of a live boy in an elaborately furnished room and all the other members of the family nagging him to keep still?

The Emperor's Bell One of the biggest bells in the world is in Cologne cathedral and is known as the "Gloriosa." It was cast from twenty-two French cannon captured in the Franco-Prussian war and was presented to the cathedral by the Kaiser. It bears the German arms and two inscriptions. One, in Latin, expresses the emperor's gratitude for the divine mercy in granting him victory. The other, in German, declares: "I am the emperor's bell, and I proclaim his glory. I fill a sacred post, and I pray heaven to grant peace and prosperity to the German empire."

No One Else to Do It "And now," said the teacher of the juvenile Sunday school class, "why did God create this beautiful world?" "I don't know," replied a bright little fellow, "unless there was no one else who could do it."

PARENT-TEACHERS

Association Heard Program, Had Social Time—Moving Pictures Discussed

One of the most interesting Parent-Teachers' meetings of the year was held yesterday afternoon in the kindergarten building of Roosevelt school. The meeting was well attended in spite of the rain.

Jessie Gaynor's Flower Songs, "The Violet," "The Dandelion" and "The Pussy Willow," were sung by the following children, whose singing showed the effect of efficient training on the part of their teacher, Miss Etta Deardriff: Elizabeth Clarke, Ula Waller, Jean Ross, Lulu Vaucl, Ruth Turner, Alma Loshall, Ralph Lewis, Joseph Smith, Paul McClelland, Cecil May, Dwight Miller and Knox Finley.

Mrs. Ethel Wilson read a paper entitled, "The Social Influence of the Moving Picture," by Rev. H. A. Juni. Her paper was in part as follows: "Statistics show that one out of every twenty-three persons in the United States attends a moving picture show every day. If arranged in a line, the moving picture shows would extend forty miles; their electric lights would make all the rosters in their neighborhood think that dawn had arrived, and it was time to crowd. The money paid into the box offices would make a belt of dollar bills long enough to encircle the globe. Dealers are putting out new films every sixty minutes—in fact the pictures are manufactured like candy, fresh every hour. Five times as many people attend moving picture shows as go to the old-line theaters. They make the drama inexpensive."

"Every picture is passed upon by the Board of Censorship. If one sees a picture that excites his disapproval and will report its title, publisher and name of author to the Board of Censorship they will carefully investigate it. By lifting up the good from the bad, the moving picture show could be made one of the greatest powers for good in the world today. It could be made one of the forms of popular entertainment which would add to the general intelligence and help to uplift, as well as become a great moral educator. This paper was followed by the question box, games played by the children, and refreshments of coffee and sandwiches.

CONSIDERING SHOE FACTORY

Anaheim Board of Trade Receives Proposal From Ohio Manufacturer

ANAHEIM, March 6.—George D. Selby, one of the best known manufacturers of women's shoes in the Middle West, has just made a visit to Anaheim from Portsmouth, O., a manufacturing center which gained its ascendancy through efforts of Mr. Selby. Anaheim was inspected by Mr. Selby with a view to starting a shoe factory here.

District Commercial Agent L. B. Valla of the Southern Pacific Company has advised the local Board of Trade that a paper manufacturing concern proposing investment of $200,000 in a branch plant in Southern California has communicated with the railroad company and railroad officials feel that Anaheim is well located to meet the requirements which the concern makes. These are constituted in request for a site of five acres where a million gallons of water can be had daily, 40 per cent of which will be turned back for irrigating purposes, the water being of good character for use in boilers. The concern expects to employ seventy men regularly and will have a monthly pay roll of $3500. The Anaheim Board of Trade has announced that the city will furnish a site on the Southern Pacific line free of cost, and the representatives of the paper company are to look over the situation.

FELONS MAY PLAY BASEBALL

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 5.—Governor George W. P. Hunt made plans for a baseball contest next Sunday between a local team and a nine composed of convicts from the state penitentiary at Florence as a part of his announced scheme for treating convicts "like ordinary humans." The game will not take place unless the street railway company, which owns the ball park, lifts its embargo against Sunday games.

HOW ONE WOMAN WON

Her Health and Strength Back Again by The Use of Cardui.

Tampa, Fla.—In a letter from this city, Mrs. E. C. Corum writes: "I was all weakened and worn out with womanly troubles. My husband brought me some Cardui as a tonic, and, from the first day, it seemed to help."

I had almost lost my reason, but, thanks to Cardui, I did not. Soon, I felt and looked like a new woman. I think the remedy is wonderful. I recommend it to my friends, for I have received great benefit from it."

Cardui acts specifically on the weakened womanly organs, strengthening the muscles and nerves, and building them up to health.

It helps to refresh the worn-out nervous system and relieves the effects of overwork, both mental and physical. Fifty years' successful use fully prove the merit of this purely vegetable, tonic remedy for women.

In every community, there live some who have been benefited by Cardui. The beneficial effects of this time tested woman's remedy, soon show themselves in many different ways. Try it.

COMING BACK WITH A BIFF

Jolt Delivered at Orange, Causes City Trustees Reply With Jolt for Jolt

Orange News: "You got to quit kickin' my houn' aroun'," the present Democratic campaign song, was the burden of the notice served upon the Southern Counties Gas Company last night by the city trustees when they again opened a fight to reduce the gas rate from $1.25 to $1.15 per 1000 cubic feet.

The effort was recently abandoned when a report from the city attorneys of Anaheim, Fullerton and Orange rather discouraged its continuation, and had the gas company proceeded in the humbleness of spirit befitting victorious gas companies it is probable that the matter would have rested there. However, the gas company immediately served notice that the minimum rate for gas would be raised from 50 cents to $1.00, no matter how small a quantity was consumed, and also served notice that a $5 deposit would be required on all meters where such deposits had not been made. The latter arbitrary action partook of the appearance of attempting to "rub it in" and the trustees, when they heard of it, were, to put it mildly, peeved.

President Dittmer took up the subject with the remark: "These gas people seem to be up on their high heels. They have juggled the price so that the man who had to pay 50 cents a month now has to pay $1. This comes after we have temporarily abandoned the attempt to reduce the rate and shows they think we are afraid of them. We should go ahead with this ordinance regulating the minimum charge, the 1000 foot price and the quality."

"I don't like the way these people have been acting," observed Wheeler. "I am in favor of going ahead with the ordinance."

"I don't think this raise will affect anyone," said Eltiste. "I didn't use any gas at all last month and got a bill for $1.50."

The reading of the ordinance followed, and there was a discussion as to the price to be fixed. Richards wanted to make the rate $1, but others thought that there would be a better chance of establishing a $1.15 rate, and Wheeler put the motion naming that rate, Eltiste seconded. It was carried and then unanimously passed to second reading.

CASCARETS WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills are Violent—They Act on Bowels as Pepper Acts on Nostrils

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the four, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

EUGENE SCHMITZ FREED

Jury Instructed By District Attorney to Bring in a Verdict of "Not Guilty"

SAN FRANCISCO, March 6.—Eugene E. Schmitz, former mayor of San Francisco and the last of the persons implicated in the famous graft expose in 1906 to face a jury, was freed yesterday of the charge of having bribed Supervisor Andrew Wilson in the so-called gas cases for which he was indicted by the Grand Jury in May, 1907.

Acting upon the request of District Attorney Charles M. Fickert, Judge William P. Lawlor instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty, which was done.

OLD LOS ANGELES POSTOFFICE TO GIVE WAY TO $1,000,000 STORE

Los Angeles Tribune: Preparations are being made by John Brockman, owner of the large lot on the southwest corner of Seventh street and Grand avenue, for the early erection of a modern department store, the cost of which it is estimated will be in excess of $1,000,000.

The old postoffice building will soon be removed. Signs are now up announcing the sale of the doors and window frames.

Mr. Brockman states that he has not yet decided when he will break ground for the department store, but that he will do so in the near future. It is indicated by the arrangements already made for the demolition of the old structure.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

While there can be no doubt that the timely rains of the past few days will affect the general market, no material change has been shown and indications are that prevailing quotations on most commodities will be upheld for at least a week. There was a slight easing off of prices on several vegetables due to increased receipts. Asparagus, both from the Imperial Valley and Sacramento points, was in liberal supply and sold from 10 to 15 cents a pound. It was asserted that the market on this vegetable will not go much lower as the canneries are buying up all available stock around the 10-cent mark. New strawberry rhubarb was marked lower at from $2.00 to $2.50 a box. Cauliflowers were in liberal receipt and considerable stock was shipped to outside points at the prevailing rates. Fancy stock was held at $1.75 a crate.

The arrival of a carload of Mexican tomatoes in towhee affected the market as quoted prices were firmly upheld. The best stock moved out at $2.75 a crate.

Trading was active in the fruit market, both apples and citrus fruits moved out well. Winceps sold at $1.50 a 4-tier and $1.25 a 4-tier box. Smith Ciders at $1.65 3 1/2-tier. Bananas were firm at 4 cents a pound.

The egg market showed added strength, due to a good outside demand and a 1/2 cent advance was noted on all grades. Canned selects sold at 26 cents, case counts at 22 cents, seconds and pullets went 20 and 19 cents, respectively. Receipts were 555 cases.

The butter market developed no new features. The market was only steady under the recent decline. Receipts of strictly fancy goods were light and only in moderate demand. Ladies were quiet and unchanged, with small supplies. Arrivals were 24,162 pounds.

Trade was fairly active in the cheese market and supplies of desirable stock were kept well cleaned up at the late advance. Domestic Swiss was best in call at 23 cents per pound. Receipts were 139 pounds.

The potato market continued firm under light supplies. There was a good demand for Highlands and Watsonville stock. The former moved out from $2.25 to $2.50, and the latter were quoted at $2.40 for the best. Receipts were 1208 sacks.

Onions showed no change, but were quoted figures. Arrivals were 300 sacks.

The bean market showed no quotable changes. There was a feeling of easiness along most lines due to the rain, but the market showed no material change. There was a good demand for both limas and No. 1 pinks. No receipts were reported in.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

CONSIDERING
BUYING FARM

Supervisors Have Two Offers
—Bond Issue for Land May Not be Necessary

City of Anaheim is Granted
Right of Way Over Roads
for Sewer Line

This morning the supervisors went to S. R. Obarr's ranch on West Seventeenth street, adjoining the Santa Ana river, and inspected the property, which has been offered to the county for $20,000. There is thirty-seven and a fraction acres in the piece.

This is offered as a site for the county poor farm and county hospital. The supervisors are now considering the purchase of a farm, and possibly it can be bought out of the current expense fund without resort to a bond issue. A bond issue will probably be necessary to build a hospital. The first step, however, is to get the farm.

The supervisors have under consideration an offer of the Fairview Hot Springs property, which includes the hotel building and twenty-two acres of land. The price is $17,000.

Permit is Granted

The petition of the city of Anaheim, presented by City Attorney Ames and City Engineer Steward of the Mother Colony, for a right of way for a sewer line along the county road, known as the Garden Grove road, was granted by the supervisors this morning. This right of way is along the route selected by Anaheim for its proposed outfall leading to its Gilbert ranch sewer farm, over which there has been considerable disturbance.

Takes No Action

On the request of W. L. Duggan, president of the Santa Ana school board, the supervisors took no action in regard to the request of J. H. Adams & Co., bond-buyers, for the return of its certified check for $6000. This attitude was taken in order to give the school's attorneys time to bring the contemplated mandamus suit.

Petition Granted

The petition of E. B. Burns and the Orange Land & Improvement Co. for a permit to lay a pipeline along the county road at the bridge between El Modena and Villa Park was granted. Water is to be taken to the old Bond tract.

It is probable that by tonight the plaintiff's case in the action of E. L. House against the Pacific Electric will be completed. This is an action for $6285 damages for overflow done by the flood of Jan. 1, 1910. The witnesses are the same as were called in the first trial last August.

R. V. Corbett and F. D. Leonard, photographers, identified photographs taken by them during the flood. Witnesses examined by the plaintiff are N. Olsen, J. A. Timmons, Robert McFadden, F. F. Thorpe, G. A. Maganey, R. P. Selvidge, R. H. English, A. M. McDowell, W. S. Young, H. C. Metzgar, A. L. Carter and J. T. Raitt. Most of these witnesses testified as to the conditions and the extent of overflow on the day of the flood.

A demurrer was filed today by Attorneys Flint, Gray & Barker of Los Angeles for the defendant in the damage suit of J. D. Dickson against David H. Lewis. Dickson asks $2500 for injuries received in a runaway while working for Hewes.

Judgment of $50 has been entered in favor of Bert Sterns against N. Rollins, a case appealed from Orange.

Too young to marry was the verdict of County Clerk Williams this afternoon when a Los Angeles couple came to him for a marriage license. The parents of the applicants were willing, but the law was not.

The usual California State Board of Health certificate for the bureau of vital statistics was made out by the applicants, Archie Edward Smith, aged 17, and Ellen Beatrice Folsom, aged 17, both of San Gabriel. When the county clerk noted that the youth was but 17, he shook his head.

"The law absolutely prohibits the issuance of a marriage license to a male under 18 years of age," said Williams.

The girl was old enough to be married with a parent's consent, for the law allows a license to be issued to a girl 16 years of age or older.

IN THE JUSTICE'S COURT

HEAD BANDAAGED HE ASKED WARRANT

Olinda Man Said He Was Struck by McCormack
With Piece of Iron

D. G. Sauls of Olinda visited the courthouse yesterday. His head was bandaged, and he told of cuts received on Saturday last when he was struck on the head with a piece of iron by William L. McCormack.

After hearing Sauls' story, District Attorney West drew up a complaint charging assault with a deadly weapon, and a warrant was issued by Justice Cox.

Sauls gave no reason for McCormack's attack upon him. He said he was stepping through a door when he was assailed.

MITCHELL NOT TO MAKE APOLOGY

So Tells Justice Wright—Final
Hearings of Contempt Case
Comes Next Week

WASHINGTON, March 6.—John Mitchell, ex-president of the United Mine Workers of America, today wrote to Justice Wright of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, refusing to apologize for his criticism of the court's decision in the case of the Buck Stove and Range Company of St. Louis when an injunction was granted the company against the publication of its name in "We Don't Patronize" list. The letter said:

"I would feel more contentment if convicted of contempt of court because of my criticisms when I am conscious of the rectitude of my course, than if acquitted on any grounds other than the facts presented."

The final hearings of Mitchell, Samuel Gompers and Secretary Frank Morrison on contempt charges will be next week.

"Stand Pat" Governors
Are All Out for Taft

BY THE NATIONAL ROOSEVELT COMMITTEE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—Hay of Washington, elected as a Progressive, and afterward flopped to the standstillers.

Goldsborough of Maryland, who was Taft's most important federal office-holder in Maryland until he became governor.

Pennell of Delaware, governor of the powder trust's pocket borough.

Spry of Utah, governor of Mormonism's state.

Hooper of Tennessee, accidental governor by grace of Democratic support when Democracy hopelessly split.

Oddie of Nevada, governor of the smallest state in the Union.

Against this group of Taft governors in states where Republicanism has been thus steadily declined, and several of which represent the worst machines in the nation, are arrayed the records of those independent, aggressive, fighting, reforming executives, who have declared for Roosevelt—Johnson of California, Bass of New Hampshire; Stubbs of Kansas; Hadley of Missouri; McGovern of Wisconsin; Osborn of Michigan, and Aldrich of Nebraska and the rest of them—every one a national figure by virtue of achievements effected in the line of practical reforms, machines overthrown, and popular rule restored.

Carroll of Iowa, who in 1908 had 107,000 plurality, and two years later got 18,000.

Pothier of Rhode Island, who in 1909 had 12,000 plurality and in 1910 had 540.

Tener of Pennsylvania, who got 33,000 plurality, in a state that had given his party 297,000 plurality in the preceding election.

Mead of Vermont, who got 17,000 plurality, while his predecessor had received 29,000.

Deneen of Illinois, who at his first election got 299,000 plurality and at his second 23,000.
